New York Stock Market

New York, October 17.—Last week's speculative advance in the stock market was carried forward into the new week in a manner to show that the resources embraced in the move ment and the atrength of the convictions on which it was based are still dominant, Realizing sales were very heavy. The power of absorption manifested by the market kept alive speculative confidence and lessened the inclination to sell out. The consequence was an occasional upward movement after various periods of hes itation and irregularity. Before the end of the day, however, realizing carried back the leaders a point or more from the highest prices.

The most important áddition to the general causes accountable for the recovery in stocks was the publication since Saturday of the statistics of the country's foreign trade for September. The showing warranted the hope that the corner had been definitely turned in restoring the normal course of the balance of trade by the disappearance of the disquicting excoss value of imports over exports, which has deprived the money market of its usual recourse to the foreign exchange market for auphies. The small excess of import values, which had resulted from the varying operations of the first eight months of the calendar year, is transferred by the results of the showing was somewhat marked by the large part played by the record experts of cotton in making the result.

The general assumption remained unshaken that a foremost private barking house was the principal influence in furthering the rise in prices. This assumption Includes that of a widespread market organization, and fostering and protecting measures for the movement of stock prices, especially United States Steel. That stock again absorbed practically one-quarter of the total dealings, keeping up the ratio covered by the whole of last week's transactions.

Time money rates were firmer in New York, and the private discount rates rose in London. The call money week's transactions.

Time money rates were firmer in New York, and the private discount rates rose in London. The call money market here was easier with the passing of Saturday's dividend requirements.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,486,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Sales of stocks to-day were 983,810 shares.
